YACHT HAWAII CHEERED BY GREAT CROWD Breckons Arrested By Richards

Richards Causes Arrest Of Breckons, Ah Sam and Willis

Results Of Orpheum Fight

United States District Attorney R. W. Breckons was this morning arrested on a charge of attending the prize fight which took place at the Orpheum last Saturday evening. The warrant was sworn to by Theodore Richards, who at the same time had warrants issued for the arrest of Ah Sam and Joekey Willis, the principals in the bout, on a charge of affray. The cases will come up in the Police Court tomorrow morning.

Although Richards insists that there is absolutely no spirit of personal animosity shown in the matter, it is significant that warrants calling for the arrest of the parties concerned were issued upon a charge of affray, which would have involved no indignity, if there is any such, would have served the purpose just as well.

Richards went to the police station this morning and asked Clerk Katsuki to make out the complaints. After they had been made out he was referred to Sheriff Lauka, who suggested that penal summonses be employed, in order that the indignity of arrest might be avoided, at least in the case of Breckons. Richards, however, would not listen to the suggestion, and insisted that warrants be issued. He said that he took the responsibility in the matter and that he was doing it. He then took the warrants to Judge Andrade, before whom he swore to them. Lauka then took the warrant against Breckons and served it personally on that gentleman. He also released him on his own recognizance.

"There is absolutely no spirit of animosity in this matter," said Richards when he was seen as he was on his way to Andrade with the warrants. "It is a personal matter with me, and the Civic Federation and the Ministerial Union are in no way involved. I take this action because I have a personal desire to have this law tested. I wish you would state that."

office by Sheriff Lauka, accompanied by District Magistrate Andrade. The news became circulated around the lower floor of the Judiciary Building, and before long a large throng of eager watchers had gathered around the little hallway entrance to see the arrested United States official go forth, with banded head, to the prison cell, or wherever the Sheriff decided to take him. But the crowd was disappointed, for when Mr. Breckons' door opened, only the Sheriff and Judge Andrade came out. Breckons stayed behind.

"Mr. Breckons accepted the warrant very gracefully," stated Lauka. "He will come before the court tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock."

When first seen Mr. Breckons stated that he had nothing to say. A few minutes later when Judge Stanley came in and announced that Attorneys Kinney and Prosser, who are opposed to Breckons in the Moses Koki case, had offered to go bail for Mr. Breckons, or render any assistance whatever, he warmed up and talked.

"I will do nothing except admit that I was at the Orpheum Theatre," stated Mr. Breckons. "If I am guilty of any crime, I will take my medicine, go to prison, if necessary. Other than that, I have nothing to say now."

When asked if he considered Saturday evening's melee as a prize-fight, Mr. Breckons said that he did not. As was natural, the matter of Breckons' arrest caused a great deal of comment around town when it became known. Some wonder was expressed at the fact that Richards could swear to the allegations in the warrant, which are that "Breckons was wilfully a spectator at a certain prize fight in a public place, to-wit: the Orpheum Theatre," when, as a matter of fact, Richards was not present, and as a consequence could have no personal knowledge of that fact. It was also suggested that as Breckons is a Federal

GRURCH'S NEW WORK

Fred. Church is to take the management of the Hawaii Photo and Art Company. This was the report in the business district today, and although it was not definitely confirmed, there seems no doubt that it is true. Mr. Crook has resigned the management and is waiting only for someone to take his place before he goes to the Coast. Mr. Church is an experienced hand in the business, having originally started the Honolulu Photo Supply Company.

Dr. Francis Brown, director for the Oriental school at Jerusalem, has been elected president of Union Theological Seminary to succeed the late Dr. Charles Cuthbert Hale.

Honolulu Gets Eight Lahaina Four Ships

Carter, Honolulu.

The entire fleet will pass the Laper Settlement, Molokai, early morning July 16th. Twelve ships will arrive Honolulu about 1 p. m. Four ships will arrive near Lahaina about 1 p. m. Further details will be sent as plans develop.

SPERRY.

The above cablegram from Admiral Sperry was received today by Chairman Carter of the Fleet Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee of the Fleet Committee met again today in the offices of the Promotion Committee and discussed many matters connected with the arrival of the Fleet. Chairman Carter reported that Mr. Cobb's services as an accountant could be secured by the Fleet Executive Committee. On motion by F. L. Waldron, seconded by Mr. Waldron, the Chair was authorized to make arrangements with Cobb. Peck of the Ways and Means Committee exhibited the forms on which the Fleet accountant may keep track of all transactions.

On motion of Mr. Wood, seconded by Mr. Waldron, it was decided that a joint meeting of the Executive and Entertainment Committees be held on Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. This was done in order to get a better understanding between the two committees.

Captain Bradley of the Salvation Army informed Chairman Carter that the Salvation Army people here were ready to render assistance to the Fleet Committee and that the Army could provide 250 beds to be placed in the old rooms of the Pacific hardware store for the convenience of the naval men. This offer was accepted.

Peck reported on hotel accommodations and, on motion by Mr. McCandless, seconded by Mr. Waldron, the reports were received and placed on file.

Present at the meeting were Geo. R. Carter, Secretary Wood, F. L. Waldron, J. A. McCandless, Geo. W. Smith, L. T. Peck, and C. H. Dickey.

"Hawaii" Sails For Coast To Enter Race

At 2:25 o'clock this afternoon, the yacht Hawaii, entry for this Territory in the Trans-Pacific Yacht Race, which is to start from San Pedro on July Fourth, slipped from her moorings, caught the breeze which swept down Nuuanu Valley, and, spreading her big, white wings, sailed from the harbor for her long voyage to the starting-post.

She carried with her the alohas of the crowd which collected at the foot of King street to see her off. And she carried with her also "bon voyage" from the city she represents, whose citizens own her, and whose colors she will defend. Disappearing this afternoon around Diamond Head, she bears the hopes of Hawaii. When she is seen again to round that Head, she will bear the realization or the death of all those hopes. Before leaving the harbor, she sailed up and down the bay, to give the crowd a chance to view her.

For many weeks the tiny little craft has been the object of the deepest interest on the waterfront, because of the big things she is expected to do, and to do which she set sail today. Designed by Crowninshield, and built by Alex Lyle with public funds, she is called by Capt.

S. J. Harris, the most competent schooner captain in the islands. "I'll sail the sticks out of her to win," says he—and he will.

Whistles were blown on all the steamers and the factories and mills about the harbor, as the boat tacked about in the bay. After making one run up to the inter-island wharf, she came back, and went about right off the end of the wharf where the crowd had collected to see her. She spun about so quickly and nicely that the crowd cheered.

Flags were massed on the shipping in port.

As the little craft left the wharf where she was moored, the yacht Kamehameha also left her dock, and sailed up and down the bay at the same time. But as she made the channel, the topsails and the flying jib of the Hawaii were hoisted, and she stood away from her companion.

The racer was met off the harbor by a number of yachts which had gone out previously. Members of the committee went out with her on launches and on the tug Intrepid.
